Enhancing the Aesthetic Appeal and Performance of Storefronts

VISION: The builder, BCG Construction, wanted a durable, yet innovative storefront window design to convey substance and integrity that is not typically seen at industrial subdivision locations. In addition, the storefront windows needed to complement the building's exterior appearance, while providing structural integrity and performance ratings expected at industrial sites.

CHALLENGE: Stergis was presented with an opportunity to custom design and install 22 aluminum storefront fixed windows and doors and metal trim in an anodized bronze metallic finish to match the exterior color of the building. The storefront windows had to be attractive and strong, while being consistent in height and design to create a cohesive appearance. Because the building's stucco structure contained uneven openings, the installation posed a challenge for Stergis to cut through rebar and precisely bend each metal trim piece to accurately fit in the openings.

SOLUTION: Stergis achieved the visual and structural requirements of the project, providing the one-story building with beautiful, customized heavy-duty aluminum storefront windows and doors. Additionally, the Stergis team created a matching custom color metal trim to complement the building's exterior, while delivering its signature performance, versatility and value builders and architects expect. Working on a tight timeline in below average temperatures, Stergis coordinated warmer days with the builder to apply sealants and completed the installation in only five days.
